When last heard from they were awaiting instructions from Regina on just how to get there.

Dorothy Says:

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a girl of 17. My father is a doctor, the finest man who ever lived, and he has been a perfect angel to his children and my mother. We have a beautiful home, plenty of money and every comfort and about the happiest people in the world. I was not born for my mother. She has such a terrible temper that we all live in fear of her. When she is crossed, a hurricane and a cyclone are crossed. I am a nervous name. We cannot keep servants because of the way she treats them. She never says a pleasant word to any of her people. One of my older sisters is a nervous wreck because of mother's awful temper. One of my brothers drink almost continually and quit college when he was a brilliant student because of mother's nagging ways. We are all miserable. What can we do? —UNHAPPY DAUGHTER.

ANSWER: Your father, being a doctor, should be able to solve your problems by being able to determine whether your mother is mentally responsible for her conduct or not. If she is insane, as her behavior seems to indicate, she should be put into some sort of an institution. If she is sane, the whole family should withdraw from her and leave her to live alone. There is no reason why eight good people should be made martyrs to the temper of one bad one.

In many families there is one mean, selfish, selfish individual who gets his or her pleasure in life by tormenting everyone else in the household. They get away with it because family pride and pity for poor Mary or John makes the father and mother and sisters and brothers endure their under the belief that John or Mary can't help their dispositions. But these same family devils can control themselves, and do so with strangers, and they would make themselves agreeable at home if they knew that they would be put out of doors if they didn't.

—DOROTHY DIX

A new bridge book, "Cullerton for the Joneses," is a comprehensive and readable book on bidding. The authors are well qualified to make the Cullerton System clear to the beginner or average player.

For Cullerton is an outstanding bridge teacher.

Maureen O'Brien is top-ranking women player on the West Coast. Here is a typical passage:

"If the spade suit were shown and a raise to game in hearts were made on the next round, responder would be showing at least two honor tricks. Opener might try for an immediate slam. The immediate and pre-emptive raise to four hearts shows two honor tricks."

Recent studies at Johns Hopkins University have disproved the popular idea that animals have better teeth with fewer cavities than do human beings. The university study of many teeth revealed the fact that the teeth of animals in their natural environment are abraded, decayed and missing in virtually the same ratio as among human beings.

So much can be said about the health-building properties of the tomato that it is hard to compress it all into a short space, but in today's article I shall try to give you the most important points.

The tomato is an excellent source of vitamin C, ranking as one of the best sources of this vitamin, which is needed to prevent scurvy, to maintain the health of the blood vessels, to keep the gums healthy, and to favor good blood formation.

This vitamin is also of value in improving the appetite. One of the most important sources of vitamin C is that it is so comparatively cheap and abundant that it is available to the average person. This is especially true during the summer when the crop is plentiful.

But the tomato is also obtainable at other seasons by making use of the canned form.

The tomato also supplies vitamins A and B. In addition, it provides the valuable mineral elements so necessary to the body, and is charged with the alkaline-forming group of foods.

The mild acid of the tomato apparently has a very beneficial effect upon the liver in the way of stimulating a better flow of bile. Hence, those with a tendency toward sluggishness of this organ will do well to use tomatoes more freely.

Inasmuch as the malleable acid of the tomato seems to assist in the digestion of fat, it is a good plan to use a tomato salad, or a dish of stewed tomatoes when serving a fish meal.

Because of the low caloric value, the tomato may be advantageously used in reducing diets.

Fortunately, the flavor of the tomato is one which is widely liked and the flavor has probably helped to increase the popularity of this health-builder.

Most people find the red color attractive, whether the food is used alone or is added to a salad. Not the least of its virtues as a food is that it is so easy to prepare.

The raw tomato is quickly sliced or cubed for salad use, and even when preparing stewed tomatoes, not much time is needed, as they quickly become tender. The canned tomato juice is one of the easiest of all beverages to serve as all that you need to do is to pour the juice into a glass and pour it out.

I find the canned tomato juice is often beneficial in a fasting regimen, the patient getting considerable good from a schedule of this kind. Even those who are working and who do not have the time to squeeze out orange juice for their fruit feedings, find they are able to take a can of tomato juice to work with them, and to use the juice very easily at regular times.

This department often has advised that parents endeavor to end undesirable situations in a gradual manner instead of ending them abruptly. The child who has sucked a thumb for months or years will rebel against being diverted from it all in a minute.

The child who bed-wetters won't become continent overnight, no matter what the methods used. The child who has been used to being rocked to sleep may stand for long rocking each night but won't stand a complete refusal to rock him. One can go on an on.

We solved our problem. I wrote a young mother, "Our boy did not care to go to bed without a light so I kept dimming the light by degrees. First I put in a darkened bulb, then I bought a smaller one then I turned the bed to face the window so that when he woke it seemed lighter than when he had faced a wall. Now he is no bother at all. We just switch off the light and he is fine."

Women's Entry Into Industry Must Not Force Men Out Work

OTTAWA, April 2.—(CP)—Movement of women into industry has started and will accelerate, but care must be taken to see that their employment is so organized that trained men are not forced out of work, Elliott M. Little, director of national selective service, told a press conference Wednesday.

that condition could arise out of the employment. Little said "I was shocked," Mr. Little said.

employment of women in the industry and the places where women can best be used."

Women would be included in the developing registration of Canadians which would eventually give a detailed picture of the labor force and the "fit" of men from "excess" to that assembly line in the National Registration of 1918.

Women who were anxious to train for some particular work, or otherwise assist, might make their wishes known to employment service officers where a record would be kept of their desires. This information would help in meeting labor questions to be dealt with in the future.

Both men and women might be aided by steps to organize spare time employment monthly.

Edmonton's building permits for the first three months of 1942 show an increase of $123,190 over the corresponding period last year, it was disclosed in a report filed Thursday by John Marland, city architect, with the city commission.

Value of permits issued for the 1942 period was $357,850 compared with $234,660 for the first three months of 1941.

Greatest increase was recorded in home building, there being 72 dwelling permits issued this year with a value of $145,000, compared with 29 for the corresponding period last year. Value of the permits in 1941 was $63,375.

An official of the city architect's office stated Thursday that the 500 house record set in 1941 would be beaten easily this year if the government does not drastically curtail building supplies.

A large increase was registered also in the value of public buildings permits issued. Last year during the first three months only one such building permit was issued, its value being $16,000. This year three permits under this classification have been taken out, the value being $106,000.

During the three month period of the 1941 permits, totaling $90,000, were issued for alterations to existing buildings. The Bureau of Public Works issued the 1941 permits was $72,000.

Consolidated John Hodgson reported Thursday that sales of city-owned land for building purposes were extremely good. He stated that the 1941 permit had just been sold. Most of the lots sold, he added, are for homebuilding purposes.

Alberta Bests

Premier States

That Alberta has the edge on the other provinces of Canada was the contention of Premier William Abernethy on Wednesday night, when he addressed the annual banquet meeting of the Edmonton Federation of Community Leaders at the Corona hotel. He stated that Alberta is one of the wealthiest provinces in Canada because of its potential natural resources, and that it has the most to offer.

He stressed the progress in education in the province and asserted that in education, Alberta is one of the bright spots in the world. The Premier told the educational development, stressing the new curriculum and teaching technique and the larger school units now in operation.

Mayor John W. Fry voiced approval of the support given in civic affairs by the Federation throughout its 10 years of operation.

Glac Bay Kicks About Switching Game To Quebec

MONTREAL, April 2.—(CP)—Despite threats by one club official that Glac Bay Miners would remain in town, it was assured in hockey circles here Wednesday night the Miners would leave Montreal this morning for Quebec City to take on Quebec Aces in the fourth game of their eastern Canadian senior hockey semi-final.

Manager Art McDonald of the Miners declared during the day he would not take his team to Quebec until he had been "notified officially" by the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association that the fourth game had been changed there from Montreal, the original site.

McDonald said President Norman D. of the A.H.A. had said playing-coach Walter (Pop) Monahan, of the Miners, the game had been transferred but had not formed "the proper club officials."

Daw said last night he had been deceiving all day to get in touch with McDonald but had failed to contact the Glac Bay manager.

LOOKS LIKE MINERS GET "SHORT CUT"

MONTREAL, April 2.—(CP)—The Allan Cup eastern semi-final series between Quebec Aces and Glac Bay Miners last over 24, but apparently somebody is highly confident of the result.

An advertisement appearing in Montreal papers today says that the eastern final between Quebec Aces and R.C.A.P. Flyers of Ottawa will open here Saturday night.

Fourth game of the semi-final best of five series is scheduled for Quebec tonight, the Aces leading 2-1 after taking the third game here Tuesday night 8-0.

Leafs Have Edge Over Red Wings

DETROIT, April 2.—(AP)—For the fifth time in nine years Detroit Red Wings have landed in hockey's big classic, the Stanley Cup finals, and even if it is a surprise to some it isn't to Manager Jack Adams.

In season play with the Red Wings, the Leafs have the edge, winning five and tying one of the eight games and scoring a total of 28 points to 21. But most of this record was compiled during Detroit's mid-season slump.

There is question that the Red Wings are on the short end of the odds.

"You can say the Leafs are 4-to-1 favorites," said Adams. "The odds can't be too big."

But the Red Wings were confident as they got down to work for the first game Saturday night at Toronto.

Pacific Coast Baseball League Opening Today

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—(AP)—Baseball overflows of the Pacific Coast League, coupling optimism to a war-torned uncertainty, ring the bell today for the opening of the 1942 season.

As the springboard for the sports' plunge into a year in which many are booming around the world, the eight-coast league's outlook is brighter than it was 23 seasons ago. In 1919 it was forced to disband July 15 under the war-work-stoppage edict.

Barring any unforeseen complications, league officials now believe the 23-week season, ending Sept. 29, will be played out.

The league, as a whole, appears better balanced than last year with even clubs rated as contenders.

Los Angeles, with fresh reinforcements from the parent Chicago Cubs, shapes up as the team to beat for the pennant. The Angels finished seventh last season.

Seattle, champions the last three years, and Sacramento, managed by dynamic Pepper Martin of St. Louis Cardinals fame, figure to make a rouling battle of it. Oakland, Hollywood, San Diego and San Francisco are clustered not far behind.

No More Baseballs So Game Called End 17th Inning

TUCSON, Ariz., April 2.—(AP)—April fool or not, Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Athletics battled through 17 innings to a 7-7 tie Wednesday and then had to call the exhibition game because, said umpire Ernie Stewart, "we are out of baseballs."

Conversion of the usual nine-inning game into a four-hour chore began in the seventh inning with the Cubs leading 6-3, two A's out and none on base, pitcher Henry Wayne walked Bob Johnson. He also walked Hal Wagner and then Felix Mackiewicz homered to tie the score.

In the 13th inning both teams scored one run. After four more scoreless innings, umpire Stewart found the shortage of baseballs so acute he called the game.

LENSBURG, Okla. (AP)—The usual nine-inning game was called off at 11:18 a.m. because of a shortage of baseballs.

Placitas, N.M. (AP)—Schmitt (R), Bowman (L), and McHugh (R), Kneib, Fowler (R), Wolf (R), Harts (L), and Warner.

New Hats For Easter Look Even Crazier When They're Worn By The Men

For no particular reason we sent out and got six of the new creations for Easter and photographed them atop some of the fellows around the shop. Results are kind of amusing.

Poles Study Bren Gun

Preparing to fight on for Poland, recruits from all over the continent are being trained at Owen Sound, Ontario. A sizeable unit has already been built up with men drawn mainly from the United States, where there are 5,000,000 people of Polish extraction. This group is studying the action of a Bren gun.

Soldiers Are Taught "Judo"

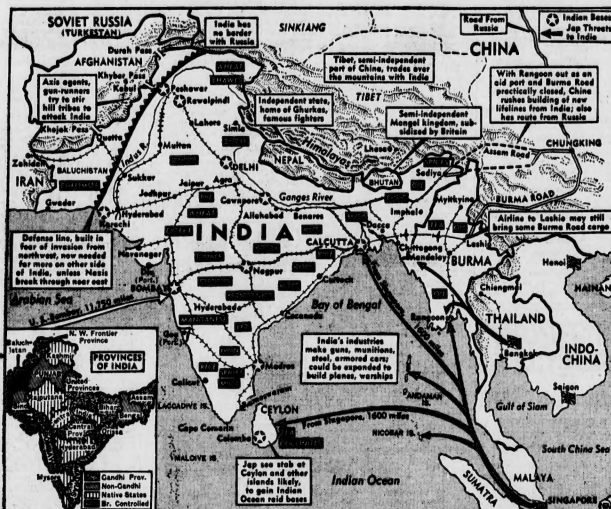

Soldiers are taught to be friends and advisers to others in the force at the U.S. M.P. (Military Police) school at Arlington, Va., but sometimes force must be used. Lieut. A. R. Flores, national judo champion in 1935, shows the men how to use a defence against bayonets. This is the bare hand defence. The bayonet lunge, top, is met by sidestepping and, centre, firmly grabbing the rifle he twists it, throwing the attacker off balance. Bottom photo shows the "kill."

India: Jap Attack Threatens Arsenal In Asia Boys, Meet Miss National Defence

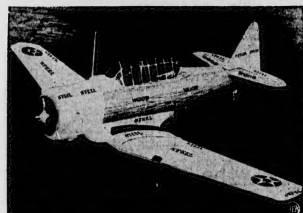

India—rich, mystic land three-fifths the size of the U.S. and home of one-sixth of the world's population—stands directly in the path of the Jap drive westward past Singapore and through Burma. Resources and present and potential war industries here make India an Asiatic arsenal for the United Nations to defend today and use as a base for offensive in the future.

Alma Carroll appears dressed for the farm front here, rather than for her title of Miss National Defence in the U.S. Obviously, however, any number of boys in blue or khaki would do battle to defend Miss Carroll.

Canadian Vigil On The Pacific

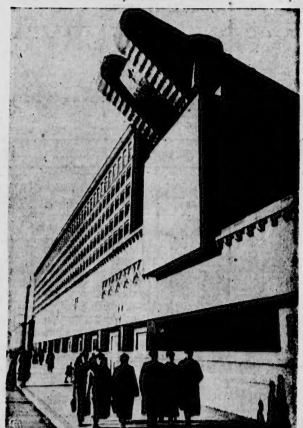

Symbol of Canada's unceasing watch on the Pacific coast is this photo showing a member of a reconnaissance unit as he gazes westward from his post somewhere along the rugged shoreline of British Columbia. Twenty-four hours a day, from the United States border to the Alaskan Panhandle, sentries stand on guard against the bold new enemy who lurks beyond the horizon of the broad Pacific.

REAL SOLDIER

"Old Tom" Blamey is Colorful Defender Of His Native Australia

By DON WHITEHEAD

NEW YORK, April 2.—(AP)—It was just about inevitable that "Old Tom" Blamey should team up with Gen. Douglas MacArthur to lay the groundwork for the United Nations' offensive in the southwest Pacific.

He's fought a lot of battles in many lands, this chunky, white-headed Aussie who has been placed in command of the Australian and American ground forces under MacArthur.

He's smelted the smoke of battle from front-line trenches; he helped plan and execute the big Allied offensive that broke the Hindenburg line in 1918; he tried to stem the Nazi tide in Greece and Crete with pitifully outnumbered troops.

HE'S TIGHT GENT

Now this 48-year-old soldier, Lt.-Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, is the biggest campaigner of his long military career—against an enemy threatening invasion of his home land.

It's a tough job they've given this mediocre school teacher, but the Australians will tell you that Tom Blamey is a tough gent, a man who doesn't direct a battle from the text books but from experience gained on the firing line.

The bitterest job he ever had was to send his Aussie troops to Greece, some of the men he had campaigned with a quarter of a century before the First Great War.

But he told them: "Anzies, set your teeth and be worthy of your fathers."

Returning from the Middle East last fall where he had been Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell's right hand man, Sir Thomas told his countrymen of the glory of Greece and Crete in a language resembling MacArthur's for phrasemaking.

TASK TOO MUCH

"And so from the snows of Persia, and from the winds that sweep down from the mountains, our soldiers retreated, fighting steadily rearguarded.

Had pressed at Perseus, and finally out to the position at Thermye. Two divisions—one Australian and one New Zealand—fought against five to six German armored divisions; armored and mountain divisions; and reinforced divisions and infantry.

"The task was too much, and it was decided to withdraw the troops."

Sir Thomas catalogued his countrymen for their complacency with typical disdain for his own personal popularity.

"To come from that atmosphere and to secure a victory in Australia gives one the most extraordinary feeling of helplessness. You are like a dog of gasolene grating in a dell on the edge of a jungle, while the beasts of prey are working up toward you, apparently unharmed and unnoted. And it is the law of the jungle that they spring upon you mercilessly."

PLANES, NOT SHIELDS

The beasts of prey have sprung upon the Aussie to help in the battle at bay until the Allies can strike back hard enough, Tokyo.

He asserted that Australia's hurried drive for air raid shelters, called for by the Japanese, is a mistake.

"What you need instead is fighting planes," he said.

Sir Thomas' blue-cropped gray hair is the only thing he has reddened face with since he was an Australian boy.

"O' Tom is the most pathetic man I have ever known. His face is red, white and blue."

March is supposed to come in like a lion and go out like a lamb, but somebody got the signals crossed up where they make the weather and Washington, all set to back in April spring, was smacked with the worst snow storm in 20 years. Thousands of trees lining the streets were felled, telephone lines were downed and traffic was generally disrupted. Photo above is typical street scene, with autos snowed under and pedestrians confined to a narrow path cut through the drifts.

Salary Boost

Is Advocated By Arbitrators

Findings of the board of arbitration dealing with the dispute between the school board of the North District No. 103 and the teachers of the district, were announced Thursday by the official department of trade and industry, showing an advocated salary increase.

The board was composed of W. A. Stewart, chairman of the school board, representing the board of trustees; J. W. Barrett, general secretary of the Alberta Teachers' Association, representing the teachers; and R. J. Gaunt, chairman of the board of arbitration.

The recommendation of a fair scale of salaries for minimum of $200 and a maximum of $1,250 for elementary teachers, minimum of $1,000 and a maximum of $1,500 for intermediate teachers, and minimum of $1,500 and a maximum of $2,000 for high school teachers, with annual increases of $50, recommended each grouping.

The "majority award" allowed for extra increases for teachers with university degrees and special qualifications for extra increases for the principal.

Originally the dispute was referred to a conciliation committee, but it failed to reach a settlement. It is a conciliation committee, with the report of the conciliation committee in this matter.

Subsequently the board of arbitration was named, and a brief presenting the claim of the teachers for improved salary schedule was submitted by C. W. Clement.

Getting Around

oceans will be actually only big ponds.

If air engineers say there are no insurmountable difficulties standing in the way of building planes that will fly 8,000 to 12,000 miles, the most probable development of $50,000,000 in the first three years. When the first Great War opened in 1914, the world's air fleet was a rarity.

The bombing plane was unknown at the outbreak of war. But in 1917 and 1918 Handley-Page bombers were used to drop bombs on the cities of the Rhine. England had also suffered from the use of the Zeppelin.

The facts are cited to show how the exigencies of war speed the development of engines of destruction. It is a tremendous development.

At the start of the present war, the bombing plane was already a very formidable and efficient machine. But the range of most modern planes is still fairly short.

Both the British and the Americans are working on the development of a new type of plane, the viewpoint of warfare in limited area.

The submarine was possibly largely responsible for American bombers being designed with sufficient range to reach the Atlantic under their own power. Situations may well arise in which any line of attack, the military position may demand greater range for bombing aircraft.

The history of man and machine has ever been that every new machine has been a success.

The greater the urgency the greater the speed to the solution of any technical problem.

A friend who served with members of the Edmonton regiment on the Spitzbergen raid last summer states the Canucks were amazed at the high quality of living enjoyed by the inhabitants of Spitzbergen Island.

The entire island was highly electrified and the islanders were able to enjoy the best of electric gadget in their houses.

The island bells were really the class, with food and able fur, and able furs.

"It seemed a shame to have not a temporary one, but a life of these people, but war is war. We couldn't let the Germans keep on using the rich coal stores on the place," the Edmonton soldier explained.

Voters' Lists

On Plebiscite Start Monday

A corps of 100 enumerators will start Monday, April 13, to compile the lists of the estimated 65,000 voters in the Edmonton West and East federal ridings in preparation for the plebiscite vote to be taken April 27.

Returning Officers, T. H. Wells, of Edmonton West, and J. H. Fulton, of Edmonton East, riding, were busy Thursday detailing the enumerators to their posts, and will start, when this job is completed, in setting up the polling stations.

Qualifications for voting in the plebiscite are the same as in a federal election. A British subject, and must have resided in Canada for a year prior to the voting and in the polling division in which registered since March 30 in the year in which the vote is taken.

Unlike an election, voters whose names have been left off the list may cast their ballot on taking the prescribed form of oath that they are entitled to a ballot. They must be voted for by two voters in the poll, however.

It is estimated that 200 deputy returning officers will be appointed to handle the vote in the two ridings.
